

Lecture Series Public Theology: An International and Intercontextual Assessment

*Task sheet: Esther McIntosh * Gender and Sexuality*

This lecture is available free of charge as comprehensive video file (mp4) or as audio file (mp3) with accompanying slides in pdf-format.

This task sheet contains:

1. Three questions for group discussion
2. Three suggested titles for further reading
3. A timeline to match audio file and pdf slide presentation

1. Three questions for group discussion:

1. Is it important to think of God in gender-transcendent terms? Can you think of some examples and discuss their strengths and weaknesses?
2. Is Christianity fundamentally about sacrifice? Can you think of some practical examples and discuss whether it is possible to value sacrifice and equality?
3. Is Christianity heteronormative? Can you think of some biblical passages that are heteronormative and can you re-read them in an LGBTQ+ inclusive way?

2. Three suggested titles for further reading

1. Greenough, Chris (2019), Queer Theology: The Basics. Routledge.
2. Isherwood, Lisa and McEwan, Dorothea (2001), Introducing Feminist Theology. Sheffield Academic Press.
3. O'Donnell, Karen and Cross, Katie (2020), Feminist Trauma Theologies. SCM Press.

3. A timeline to match audio file and pdf slide-presentation
